Mr. Thompson gives the following account of his adventure: "The balloen ascended at 4:00, and from the velocity the balloon was "traveling at; I soon see it was foolish to try to describe." It soon became at death to me that landing in Cainds was out of the question, and that all arrangements must be made to be driven across, the lakes. The first thing that struck me was to drop the grapuel to the full extent, one impared and twenty feet; this acted as a guide so the disance that the balloon might be kept above the sarrier of the water (it being now dark, and by piscing one hand on the rope, the effect of the grapuel striking the water was, distinctly felt. With an open land or the water a couple of bandeful of sand were thrown out, and to this plan alone I owe my own preservation and success. The ballost taken was about 350 pounds. A Review of the Situation.

The Democratic party for many years has been on the "retired flat," not only in the State, but in Bear Herald the Nation The country repudiated them and frove them from power They were the pro slive ry party as all the world knows The best of their legistution was to extend and fortify the institu tion of Slavery The history of the "insepressible conflict" is fresh in the memory of all we need not relieves it or mark the stages of its bing cuch other with wooden cheese knives, pre progress and its culmination in civil war. But. printerly to the commencing theatrical season fice it to say, that the people of the Free States commutted the roles of government to a new set of mon-to the Republican party

This was necessary A cardinal doctrine of the Democratic party was that the Federal Govern ment had no right to corre a fiste Besides there fingered in the Democratic party a feeling of toudernoss and sympathy for the boutber leaders and people, and a strong reput name and opposition to the abolition of slavery, Ilad Iteratio Sevenour but in the Presiden tial chair instead of Abraham Lincoln , had Jorry Black been in the Cabinet instead of Stanton with a respectable support in both houses of Congress, it is very doubtful, if the Southern States were not "let alone," it is highly probable that a treaty of peace would have been concluded, conceding Southern independence, at least, we never should have had Emancipation, their consent and approximon, or that of the De mocratic party

In the midst of the war, indeed, Governor Sey mour and his friends mut at thicago and de clared the war a failure, and in steking to retheir blows at the Administration in power and dealt very gently with their ' erring Southern brettern' But, in spite of all the errors of the p rty in power, the people by their votes, all rose bud waving over him, heardes it was war over the North declared year after year, that the Republican party should finish what it had be gun

And, after I ce had surrendered to Grant and the rebellion had succumbed to the superior phy sical force of the North, the great question of Reconstruction confronted the country. What to do with the rebels, and what to do with the freedmen became the vital and absorbing ques

The President and Congress soon got to larger heads on this subject. Both claimed the exclusive jurisdiction in the premises. The lite-ideal stuitified houself in this business, for he had proclaimed that ' the rebels must take back seats and that the freedman must have the suffrage to protect them from their late masters A change came over his mind and he soon belied all his professions and set himself, tooth and nail, against Congress He retord all the bills passed by Congress, with a view to secure a loyal repre sentation in Congress, and appealed to the people. The last full elections went overwhelm ingly against the President on this resuc, and Congress was backed up and reinforced, to the enthusiastic delight of the people.
In the convess last full, the issue was obserty presented and comprehended by all. The Constitutional amendment was thoroughly discussed and theroughly suproved North saw in it nothing which could be justly objectionable to a Southern state, if such State was really retracted by good faith towards the Government The amendment only required that the National debt should held as a sacred obligation by all the States, that the Rebel debt should myer under any circum stances be assumed or folsted upon any rebel or loyal State and that there should be the same basis of Congression of representation both as the South and the North The inequality and prepanderance of representation at the South was incorporated in the Constitution for the ben effect slavery and slavery being abolished, there was neither sense nor reason why the South should longer color such in unfair advantage over us Still the Southern States, instructed by the President rejected the Constitutional Amond ment, and as we said before the people of twenty edd States indorsed Congress and voted its condumnation of Johnson his acts and his policy and its equal condemnation of the contumacy of the South A year has the sed, and we see an other political revolution, and the Democrati party in the ascendant by a moderate numerical majority of a few thousands in an aggregate vote of several hundred thousand. It is more a diuster than a defect, and more of a rebuke time estimity. We are not to infer from this unto and result that President Johnson has regained or that Congress has forfited the confidence and respect of the country. We are not to infer tha the Democratic party has suddenly become popular or that that party is regarded as any me has been in times past or than any other party How is it then? Why is it? Why the Demo cruic party has been quietly looking on and taking identifies of our blunders our dissensions nd our lethary.

The mass of our party have been lukewarm Why the People put down Johnson most em phatically last year, and they will do the som thing this fall | The Soldiers are with us . Grant and Sherrlin are with us Congress is in our bands we have nearly all of the Northern States, Republican in ascendancy, in every bruich of their Government. Our vote is of sphit they have seted. This one has attended to us " farm," and that one to life " merchandize " Again the leaders of our party-our State our County and our loc d Committees, have been culpably, shamefully negligent. We have had no organization, no tacctings, no note of warning, on account of the ignorance of thus Well count y have been the whole builden of the count y have been the whole builden of the came paign without a sign of consultation or encourage ment from any quarter

This is the true solution of the result To be sure, we had to hear the addum of other nupopa lar causes, and other unpopular legislationsuch as prohibition and tax ation, but prohibition per se is no part of the Republican creed, not is the Republican party responsible for the Na tional debt. The Demogratic party would have to collect the revenue just the same, if in jower, or the country would become bankrupt, as well a dishonored in the face of all mankind

We do not yet give up the State, if we have oat it, it will be by an insignicant majority. But is no event, will the giant Republican party of the North abute "a jot of heart or hope," it will neither surrender not retract its principles. It is still the party of equal rights, of impartial liberty of progress. Like all parties, it may be seaudal-ized, and put to shame by the corruptions or shortcomings of those who have embraced its grandszement So, t.c, our Lord and Savio had twelve disciples, and one of them was a devil, but the perfidy a dozen Judas' could not aulty the purity of the Christian Falth We do not ection in our men, nor infallibility in our measures. And we pray that our party may go down if ever it becomes as demoralized as the party it superaced. We are proud of its his-toric greatwans, and we are sere that its benefi-cent mission is not yet accomplished.

New York Letter From "Crocus." NEW YORK; Oct 7, 1867

Binco my last communication this gay old vil amustinen, have been reflitted mit furnished, old Broulway about 10 clock in the afternoon pre scuts the same array of beauty, fashion and suc bery that his always characterized it. All the health seekers from the watering place, and tomed promenade as usual. Here tray be seen the young man who has been off in some coun and entiresting , into age, a corn on the monstache and entiresting , into age, a corn on the round control of the in town by his change of appearance, most his Also the young lady who failed to rctura "strike" a genuine Italian count while at Baratogs, or Long Brunch, and who out of spite at her single condition, goes shopping daily and makes holes in the "governor's" purse that it will take many a rese in "Erle and Central" to till up In fact the helics are making amends for th privations and sufferings white absent this summer by now purchasing a large few of the ne contrict of life such as bonnets, shawls, opera exections bounct—well made—consisting of two ribbons that together in the middle and a dead manning bird lay where he fell, on top, with a purchasers The next morning I observed the sinc article in another window marked, "from Paris," $500 00, and while I stood looking at it over this en women got to fighting as to who should own the coveled bounet, and the milliner and it was a poor day for quarrelling, too

The lady who became the purchaser, got it by on shing the window in and taking it from the outside. She said she was "going to have that bonnet if the old man didu't lay up a cent," and from what I saw I guess she will

The event of the past week was the arrival and reception of General Sheridan "Phil" was his lineh with his usual sprightliness at the Fifth Avenue although invited to board with me on Hash Row' while in town Everybody appeared to give him a hearty welcom only had to shake four or first homeand hands while bure, which was getting off cheap Ristors holds forth weekly at the French Thes

FIRE ON THE OIL CREEK RAILHOAD, -At an early hour pesterdly morning it was discovered that the wood in the Oil Creek Railroad Compa nies wood shed situated about three quarters bille shove Spartansburg was on fire. The shed contained from nine but fred to one thous and cords of choice wood, and before any mate rial assistance arrived on the pround the fire had getting acquainted though sa a recent , ad in Rajurq anch peadway that the greater portion of the wood was in flames. The intense beat of the burning wood twisted the rails and damaged the track to such an extent that the trains did not run past the fire until the following afternoon During the morning the trains going North and South were run each way as far as possible an the passengers, baggage and mails were then transferred. The transfer occassioned a delay o arout one hour. It is supposed that the fire was the work of an incendlary The loss is satima ted at $4,000

FIRE ON THE MCCLINTOCK FARM -Yesterday morning between 9 and 10 e'clock a fire broke out in the derrick of the well No 270 on the Mc Clintock Firm The flames spread to an oil tank and engine house which were entirely destroyed together with about 150 barrels of oil The en gine house of the Ferris well was torn down in order to prevent the fire from spreading. The origin of the fire is not positively known, but it is supposed that it caught from a spark from the engine The well was owned by Mesars Geo K. Anderson and M. C. Martin The loss is mated at from $800 to $1,000
